Mary Bundrick has served as manager of the PrimeTimes Program at Palmetto Health Baptist for the past nine years. PrimeTimes is a community service for adults 55 and over that offers health seminars and screenings, educational programs, discounts and travel opportunities for its members. Ms. Bundrick received her bachelor’s degree in health and physical education and her master’s degree in health education from the University of South Carolina. Her work experience has included 30 years as a public health educator in settings such as the State Office on Aging, Richland Memorial Hospital; South Carolina DHEC; and the South Carolina Public Schools. Ms. Bundrick is an advocate for living a healthy lifestyle and loves to share PrimeTimes’ philosophy of "Healthy Aging." She is married to S.R. "Cam" Anderson, a local attorney, and they enjoy gardening and travel.
